

Top 10 questions to ask when looking for Long Term Care / Senior Care

Samantha Lappe, Clinton Manor; Cindy Hill, Home Instead Senior Care; and Gina Ratermann, Brightly Senior Living

1. What is the staff-to-resident ratio, nurses, aides, care partners, during different shifts?
2. How are individual care plans developed and updated? Are residents and families involved in the planning process?
3. What medical services are available on-site, including physician visits, wound care, medication management, and therapy options?
4. What activities and social programs are offered to encourage resident engagement and well-being?
5. What safety measures are in place to prevent falls and accidents, including monitoring systems and emergency response procedures?
6. How are dietary needs and preferences addressed, including special diets for medical conditions?
7. What are the monthly fees, and what payment options are accepted, including Medicare and Medicaid?
8. How can residents and families raise concerns or file complaints regarding care or facility conditions?
9. Is transportation available for medical appointments, community events, activities, and if so, what is the distance they are willing to travel?
10. Personal Belongings: What equipment and personal belongings are residents allowed to bring with them, and are they responsible for providing? (Walkers, TVs, recliners, phones, etc.)